JUSTICE JOHN'S COURT. A Big Cheese Knife Figures Prominently in a Fight.

A few cases of interest came up for His Honor's consideration at the Temple of Justice yesterday; otherwise the proceedings were as uninteresting as a third-class melo-drama at a second-rate playsawdust, the Justice taxed his flow of wit with the customary pungent remarks, and the several dark-hued individuals and the several dark-hued individuals amiled so loud that the court threatened to indict them for horse-laughing. The thermometer took a rise and wan-dered up to the mid-spring point, thus coaxing out the files in full force, and of course these impertinent insects took the liberty of ambling about on the polished skull of the banker, until that official divided his time between receiving the lines and the fines and looking after the comfort of the dome of his cranium.

players were soon established at His Honor's curves.

William Chembers (colored) tried hard to make a three-base hit on the charge of stealing a pair of shoes from George Coleman. The case was continued till the 15th instant, in order for the court to ascertain a thing or two.

Samuel Watson (colored) tried to do the grand cowboy act. He got into a fracas with James Smith, and proceeded to carve that individual's anatomy with a cheese that individual's anatomy.

that individual's anatomy with a cheese knife Smith was slashed quite seriously on the

Smith was slashed quite seriously on the head, and was not able to appear on the diamond. The case was therefore continued till the 15th instant.

John Johnson (colored) stepped to the hat on a charge of ruining Annie Coles. He expressed himself as willing to marry the girl and settle the matter; but Annie is not yet of account in unable to agree is not yet of age, and is unable to agree to the match without the consent of her parents. The case was carried over till Notwithstanding the balmy spring weather, Anderson Cousins (colored) will languish in the jug for thirty days for being a vagrant, and Willie Carter (colored) created a row in the barroom of Fulton & Brock, for which he paid $3; while the case of Samuel Smith (colored), the fellow while the case of Samuel Smith (colored), the fellow that got cut with a cheese-knife, charged with doing the puglistic act in the store of E. C. Lawton, was continued till the 15th instant.

Jerry Jones (colored) couldn't hit the delusive sphere, and struck out on the charge of assaulting and beating Bettie Thomas.

Jerry has been making himself scarce since last summer, when the fracas occurred. It would appear that he is rather a shrewd article, outwitting the Richmond police for twelve mouths, as he did. But "better late than never," is the motto of the Justice, and of course the banker had to have a little interest. Jerry was touched for $30, and went to the jug for six months for being strapped. Always put aside a little money in case of an emergency.

"Play ball!" said the Justice, and several of the base runners got themselves ready to whitewash the court. They were W. B. Fogg. J. H. Anderson, James Jaiman and James Payne. His Honor took up the ash, however, and in his characteristic way rent the sphere flying over the contre-fleider's head, thus makever the centre-fielder's head, thus making a home-run, which cost the visitors something like $2.50 each.

This closed the game, and the players took a rest until Monday, when the "cranks" will have an opportunity to see

THE CONFEDERATE BAZAAR WILL OPEN ON TUESDAY.

All the Tents Have Been Erected in the Regimental Armory and the Decorations Have Been Nearly Completed.

There is only one more day left for the completion of the preparations for the Memorial Bazaar, which will be opened on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The lights went down, about 11 o'clock in the evening, a great deal of work had been completed. The Maryland tent, decked in the Oriole colors of the State, stood in readiness to receive the various contributions. The regimental flag of the Fifth Maryland regiment, which was loaned to the ladies pleted. It is draped in red and white, and the work has been done by Mrs. J. W. White, Mrs. N. V. Randolph and Messrs. George E. Reeve, L. L. Lacy and J. E. Parsons. The tent will receive the special attention of the ladies of Lee

The tent of the Solid South will be one of the prettiest attractions of the whole bazuar. The decorating of the same was bazzaar. done by the young ladies and gentlemen of the tent, under the direction and supervision of the Misses Baughman and Miss Mercer Cooke.

The South Carolina tent will also be a great attraction. Its front will in the centre contain the shield of the State, banked in cotton and rice, produce o that State; palmettoes radiating from the entre form the background; underneath the shield the name of South Carolina is written in letters of cotton, and the whole is festooned with gray mess caught with bunches of rice, tied with blue and white slik ribbons, the colors of the State. At the ends of the tent the large palmettees are placed, and the apex is surmounted by the flag of the State, showing a white palmetto tree in a blue field.

General N. H. Harris, who commanded the celebrated Mississippi brigade of Mahone's division, A. P. Hill's corps, Army of Northern Virginia, and who is now residing in San Francisco, Cal., has forwarded to Mrs. J. H. Capers a beauti-ful gold hat-pin, to be presented to the ful gold hat-pin, to be presented to the Memorial Bazaar in his name. General Harris visited Richmond at the unveiling of General Lee's statue, and was warmly welcomed by the members of his old brigade, residing in this city, Messrs. Charles Well, A. Eichel, E. P. Murphy and J. H. Capers, and was most enthusiastically received by the survivors of Welsiger's brigade, Virginia, who had stood by him and his brigade in so many stood by him and his brigade in so many memorable contests in Virginia.

The Virginia tent also is completed, it is draped in blue and white. Mr. George Bamford, of Levy & Pavis, did the work. He also will decorate the Texas tent and the relic room in the gallery.
Messrs. Woodward & Lothrop have done the decorating of the tents of Maryland, North Carolina and Missouri.
The ladles of the Solid South have received from Messrs. Edward Todd & Son, of New York, a donation of silver and gold pens and pencils. The Phil. Hoke Manufacturing Company, of New York, have sent some fine stationary and Mr. P. M. Latham, of Koch Sons & of New York, some handsome

In the western end of the hall is a representation of Fort Augustine, Florida. This will be used by the Florida and Louisiana committee. A number of dwarf paim trees adorn the "fort." The elegant Kimball organ, which has been sent to the Arkansas ladies, will be voted to the Presbyterian and Metholist Home for old ladies. This Home has no organ, and is very much in need of one. It is hoped that all friends of the institution will give at least one vote for the small amount of twenty-five
